Miles Burd and Daryl Strong recount flying helicopters for the US Air Force out of Luke Air Force Base. They were first on the ground at the TWA-United mid-air collision in June, 1956. They also flew to the village of Supai, and helped prevent frost damage for the orchards around the Base in Phoenix.